PHILADELPHIA

THE ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA.

The Society was organized in December, 1749, Dr. Thomas Graeme, President.

Five members of the Society were signers of the Declaration of Independence, James Wilson, John Witherspoon, D. D., Thomas McKean, afterward Governor of Pennsylvania; Philip Livingston and George Ross. Alexander Hamilton was an honorary member.

OBJECT.

"The relief of Scotch emigrants after their arrival in Pennsylvania and the widows and minor children of such emigrants." Careful investigation is made in each case. All applicants for relief are to be referred to the Assistants, through Mr. Alexander Harding, No. 120 South Sixth Street, 2 to 4 P. M.

ELIGIBILITY TO MEMBERSHIP.

Citizens of Pennsylvania born in Scotland, or of Scotch ancestry. Names are to be presented at a stated meeting, giving address, business in which engaged and whether born in Scotland, or of Scotch descent. These are referred to the Elective Committee for action at a subsequent meeting of the Society.

DUES.

Admission fee, $15.00. Annual dues, $5.00. Life membership, $50.00, or for a member of 15 years' standing, $25.00.

MEETINGS.

Quarterly meetings are held on the last days of February, May, August and October, and on St. Andrew's Day (November 30), unless said day shall happen on Sunday, when the meeting shall be held on the day next succeeding. Supper is served after each Quarterly meeting. The Annual Dinner (by subscription) is held on St. Andrew's Day, November 30th.
